Grand Theft Auto 5 for PC will be the best thing to happen to the series since theÂ . I mean, how could a crack whore game not be free?.The present invention relates to a method of making lithium cobalt oxide powder and more particularly to a method of making lithium cobalt oxide powder suitable for making a positive electrode active material of a non-aqueous electrolyte secondary battery. In the field of secondary batteries, mainly used are secondary batteries using a material capable of absorbing and desorbing lithium ions as an active material for a positive electrode. Examples of such a material are lithium-containing transition metal oxides such as LiCoO₂, LiNiO₂, LiMn₂O₄, LiFePO₄, LiMnPO₄, Li(Mn, Co)PO₄, Li₂MnO₃, and Li₂FeO₃. Lithium-containing transition metal oxides for a positive electrode material are generally composed of crystalline particles or amorphous particles. Examples of methods of making such crystalline particles or amorphous particles include, for example, a method of preparing a target material having a desired composition in a molten state and a method of pulverizing and processing a target material in an aqueous medium. As a method of preparing a target material having a desired composition in a molten state, there is generally known a solid-state reaction method for preparing a target material by heating a compound of a desired composition in a crucible to prepare a desired target material in the form of a compound containing a desired element and subsequently pulverizing the compound. However, this method has a problem that the compound tends to lose its composition. Further, since the pulverized compound generally causes pulverization damage of the composition, even if a target material having a desired composition can be obtained, the target material cannot be used as an active material for a positive electrode. Alternatively, as a method of pulverizing and processing a target material, there has been proposed a method of preparing a mixture containing a precursor and an aqueous medium and the mixture is pulverized and processed into a product. In this method, the precursor is a target material, but before the pulverization and processing into a product, the precursor is generally subjected to a process of coating the precursor with an aqueous medium or a process of dispersing the precursor in the aqueous medium. Examples of this method include a method of dispersing a lithium compound
